

Call for Papers

Osnabrück Research Forum on European Legal Studies

Osnabrück University, Germany
30 November / 1 December 2023

The Osnabrück European Legal Studies Institute is pleased to announce a Call for Papers for the 1st Research Forum on European Legal Studies, which will be held at Osnabrück University on 30 November and 1 December 2023 on the occasion of the Institute's 20th anniversary. The Forum is dedicated to interdisciplinary and legal scholarship focusing on current topics and developments in various fields of law in the European Union. We are currently seeking submissions from PhD students, Postdocs and junior faculty interested in presenting papers at the Forum.

The deadline for submissions is 31 July 2023.

We invite submissions on any topic related to EU law and the interplay between EU law and national law. Potential topics include (but are not limited to):

- European Constitutional Law
- European Private Law
- European Consumer Law
- European Platform Regulation
- European Regulation of Artificial Intelligence
- European Administrative Law
- European Legal History

A jury of accomplished scholars with expertise in the particular topic will select the papers to be presented. Travel expenses of presenters will be reimbursed up to 500 EUR. For jointly authored submissions travel expenses of one presenter will be covered.

Participants in the Forum are also invited to attend the Institute's 20th anniversary celebration, which will be held in the afternoon of 1 December 2023. Keynote speakers at this event will be Pascal Pichonnaz (President of the European Law Institute), Christian von Bar and Jens-Peter Schneider (Founders of the European Legal Studies Institute).

Electronic submissions with an abstract in English of no more than 300 words should be sent to the institute [elsi.public.law@uos.de]. Please remove all references to the author(s) in the paper. Please include in the text of the email a cover note listing your name, the title of your paper, and the general topic under which your paper falls. Any questions about the submission procedure should be directed to Thomas Groß [thomas.gross@uos.de]. We will notify applicants as soon as practical after the deadline whether their papers have been selected.
